AFL Political Meet July 19-20 In D.C.

Delegates from AFL Political and Educational Leagues all over the Nation will converge on Washington, D. C. on July 19-20 for a caucus on ways and means to turn out the remaining Taft-Hartley representatives in 1950.

The call for local Political and Educational Leagues to send delegates went out over the signatures of William Green and George Meany, chairman and secretary, respectively of the League.

The letter noted that only ten short months remain for ground-work to be laid for the 1950 elections.

Leaders of the League, with which the Union Labor Party is affiliated, plan the greatest election activity in labor's history. The meeting will be held in the Statler Hotel.

The caucus will be open to all delegates for open discussions and suggestions for making the drive successful. The attendance of delegates from the grass roots districts is especially requested and needed to make the conference a success.

Green and Meany urged all Political and Educational League affiliates to send delegates.

Insurance Agent Union Election Set for July 8

The run-off election covering some 15,000 agents of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. has been scheduled throughout the nation for Friday, July 8, according to an announcement this week from Daniel V. Flanagan, western director of the American Federation of Labor.

In the first election several weeks ago, the AFL Insurance Agents' Union topped the ballot, leading the CIO and the independent unions, but failing to get a majority of all votes cast. Thus the National Labor Relations Board scheduled the run-off election between the AFL and CIO groups.

"The AFL considers this election of the highest importance," Flanagan said. "If we are successful it will act as a very effective springboard toward organizing the other big insurance companies in the country. It will also give us another large group of so-called white collar workers as members of our family of labor."

Flanagan called upon all AFL members to assist in the election by contacting Prudential agents and urging their vote for the AFL union.

CALIFORNIA CLERKS FIGHT SAFEWAY STORES' TAIT-HARTLEY CHARGES

Steps were taken by the California State Council of Retail Clerks at a special meeting in Los Angeles last week for a defensive against vicious attacks against local unions by Saffeway Stores under the Taft-Hartley Act, according to James P. McLoughlin, State Council vice-president and secretary of Clerks Union 428 of San Jose area.

Saffeway has filed unfair labor practice suits against four local unions of retail clerks, including Locals 648 of San Francisco, 373 of Vallejo, 839 of Salinas, and 541 of Eureka, while the California Grocers Association has similar suits against Local 1532 of Santa Rosa.

The state meeting was called to hear reports of how the Taft-Hartley Act is being used against clerk unions and to plan the state's defensive, which includes increasing State Council per capita tax for a fund to fight the cases in court and the retaining of four prominent labor attorneys for legal counsel.

Attorneys placed on retainer by the State Council include Alexander Schullman and Robert Gilbert, of the Los Angeles area; James Galiano, of Oakland, and Roland P. Davis, San Francisco attorney who also has been attorney for the Central Labor Council here.

Don't Lose Your Social Security Card Numbers

Social security cards sometimes get lost, but it is literally impossible to lose your social security number, according to John J. Cassidy, manager of the San Jose Social Security Administration office.

"Anyone who has lost his social security account number card can obtain a duplicate card for the asking," Cassidy said. "Application blanks are available at all social security offices and most post offices."

"If the worker has the stub of his original card, showing the account number, a duplicate can be issued immediately. Otherwise, we must check our original number. This takes about 10 days."

The San Jose social security office is located at 28 North First Street in San Jose, and is open from 9 to 5, Monday through Friday. Applications for original or duplicate account numbers and information concerning old-age and survivors insurance benefits may be handled by mail if desired.

80th Congress Reversed Again

One of the crimes committed against the American farmer by the 80th Congress was its refusal to ratify the International Wheat Agreement.

The Agreement provided a five-year market for U.S. wheat at $2 a bushel.

Last week, the 81st Congress ratified the International Wheat Agreement—at a price of $1.80 a bushel.

The farmers have lost 20c a bushel because of the 80th Congress.

But once more the 81st Congress has moved to wipe out the unsavory record of the 80th.

Incidentally, more senators changed their votes on the wheat agreement proposal than representatives did on the Taft-Hartley Act.

Thirty-three members of the House who supported Taft-Hartley in the 80th Congress changed their votes and voted against it in the 81st Congress.

To avoid showing which senators changed their vote, the wheat agreement was ratified without a roll call.

WHEN NEWS ARE BOUGHT

One of the curses of modern journalism is the prevalence of stories, magazine articles and expressions of opinion, editorial or otherwise, that are bought outright by designing individuals, who either desire personal publicity or who are interested in influencing public opinion, like Porfirio Diaz, the discredited ex-president of Mexico did till he fled to Spain. Frequently such paid publicity is dressed up so attractively that other editors mistake them for being genuine and reproduce them in their own papers as news, without pay. Is it any wonder that the average reader of newspapers frequently falls for such stories?

At best such purchased copy for newspapers is not genuine news. It is usually badly distorted and unreliable and is totally unfit for the public to read. Then there is a type of publisher, who not only accepts paid reading matter in violation of law, which requires that all paid matter should be designated as paid advertisements, but who clings to the theory that the only news worth publishing in his papers is that which has some indirect pay end to it.

In other words such "pay end" publishers consider news worth printing when it deals with individuals or events that are profitable and nets financial returns to them. If there is no "pay end" to a story then the practice of such publishers is either to skip it or boil it down to a mere mention, which is frequently so completely buried in some obscure portion of the paper that most readers fail to notice it.

WE NEED MORE DEMOCRACY

There is nothing we need quite so much as a rebirth of honest-to-goodness regard for the will of the majority of the American people. What most Americans understand by Democracy is that our government should carry into effect the principles and policies desired by the majority of the people. That is the kind of Democracy we need a whole lot of in order to get back into something like balance.

As matters now stand we have a lot of representatives in Congress who are listed as Republicans and a pretty unruly block of Democrats whose conduct and utterances brand them as being fascist minded. Just as in the 80th Congress these reactionaries united to enact such fascist laws as the Taft-Hartley law and other anti-labor legislation, which over a period of years would reduce American workers back to slavery, so these same kind of reactionaries in the 81st Congress are opposing all efforts to undo the harm done by the 80th.

Evidently our only out is to prepare from now till the next primary election for the most extensive house-cleaning our American Congress has ever experienced. What we need is to elect people to our Congress who really believe that the will of the majority should be law. Evidently there are a lot of our misrepresentatives in the 81st Congress who believe otherwise as can be seen plainly by their votes on legislation that has come up for decision thus far. Let us leave no stone unturned to get rid of as many of the bad eggs as is humanly possible. The next primary election will be our opportunity.

PROGRAM NEEDS REVISING

Those who control the 81st Congress apparently have a pretty definite program laid out for this year and next. Evidently this program is not in accord with the 1948 platform of the Democratic party. Thus far every attempt to translate any important portion of this platform into law has been rejected, either by the House of Representatives, or by the U. S. Senate, or by both.

If the 81st Congress continues to ignore the expressed wishes of the American voters in the 1948 election in the way it has been doing thus far it is apt to end up even more discredited than was the 80th of which both houses were controlled by the Republicans. The voters rejected that Congress and placed Truman and the Democrats back into majority control, as they had made a fairly good record during the years Franklin D. Roosevelt was president.

What ails the present Congress is anybody's guess. What has prompted the 81st Congress to disregard thus far practically every mandate issued by the American people last November 2nd is for those who are running it to explain. So far their whole program has been rotten. Unless they change it, we will have to change Congress.

WHAT CONGRESS IS DOING

So little actual good for our country has been accomplished by the present 81st Congress that at the rate good legislation has been enacted during the first six months it would not do as much good in a hundred years as did the first Congress with Franklin D. Roosevelt during its first 100-day special session. On this showing we certainly need to elect a different Congress in 1950.

In order to get more honest politics we must first have more honest voting.

Sec. 4. Words used in this Constitution in the masculine gender shall include the feminine.

Discussion: Note Section 1 (a).

"This organization shall be known as the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers."

When first organized in St. Louis, Missouri, November 21st, 1891, the Brotherhood was known as the National Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. At a later convention Electrical Workers' Local Unions in Canada applied for and were granted charters, thus it became necessary to change the status and title of the Brotherhood from National to International.

(b) Again we note in the title "International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers," the emphasis on the word "electrical." Originally the Brotherhood consisted only of Linemen and Wiremen, but this circumstance could not endure long, as the very title "Brotherhood of Electrical Workers" indicates any and all electrical wage workers.

(c) "With jurisdiction over all electrical wage workers" is self-explanatory, however many, even some members of the I.B.E.W. do not look at it in this light. Let us then refer briefly to the objects of the I.B.E.W., the first of which is "to organize all electrical workers into local unions"—and, in short, to represent them faithfully to promote the economic welfare of the Brotherhood and all of its members.

In the very first sentence of its Constitution the I.B.E.W.—(the oldest of all existing electrical workers organizations) claims jurisdiction over all electrical workers in all branches of the electrical trade. Thus article I, Section 1, of the Constitution might be taken as an admission to never surrender its jurisdiction to a dual organization or any organization which might cast covetous eyes on work properly coming within the jurisdiction of the I.B.E.W.

By the same token, the Brotherhood holds membership open to all electrical workers actually employed in any branch of the electrical industry, consisting of "an unlimited number of local unions acknowledging its jurisdiction and subject to its laws and usages." The fact that the I.B.E.W. shall not be dissolved while five local unions object to disbanding, is a guarantee to members that their rights within the Brotherhood will be preserved. The latest directory shows over 1,500 local unions in the I.B.E.W.

GOP Publicity Is Branded as 'Huckster' Tactics

Republican pre-occupation with publicity rather than principle has caused them once more to render the nation a disservice.

This huckster approach to the field of government was never more evident than last week when the Republican National Committee lifted excerpts from former President Hoover's radio broadcasts concerning reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government and injected them into radio transcripts of a purely partisan nature.

Former President Hoover promptly repudiated these transcriptions, saying: "No one has the moral right to re-broadcast them (Mr. Hoover's broadcasts) in part with additions of their own. That would distort their objectivity and their non-partisanship."

"The (Hoover) Commission was formed half from each party and we have zealously maintained its non-partisan attitude. That attitude has been finely maintained in the committees of Congress and of the floors of both Houses. I would be sorry to see any other attitude."

Most of the press has condemned the Republican National Committee for its methods. But apparently this has had no effect, for the Republicans are continuing distribution of these discs without consideration for Mr. Hoover's feelings.

These are press agent tactics—any publicity is good publicity—just mention the GOP.

Meanwhile, with the filing of the final report of the Hoover Commission, the President has renewed his drive to bring more economy and more efficient organization into the Federal Government.

O'Brien Tells How Housing Plan Aids Health, Juveniles

"Why should the public treasury be subject to expense for slum clearance and public housing?"

Rep. George D. O'Brien (D., Mich.) asked this question in a recent speech in the House.

And this is the way he answered the question:

"It might be a fair reply that the public treasury rather is aided by government going into this field and seeing that the job is done.

"Public ill health flourishes in the slums and is contagious and expensive.

"Tuberculosis and juvenile delinquency flourish in the slums and society as a whole cannot, if it wishes, get away from the resulting costs of disease and crime and human waste that occur in and result from the slums.

"Furthermore, this construction program will aid employment. There are at least 3,500,000 persons unemployed in the United States. The fact makes it all the more timely that we now set out in this too-long-deferred program of slum clearance and public housing."

A bill providing for slum clearance, public housing and other housing measures is expected to come before the House this month. The measure has been passed by the Senate.

2,000,000 Work In Construction

Washington, D. C.—Construction contractors had over two million employees at work in mid-May, according to preliminary estimates of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor.

This is an increase of 73,000 over the revised April estimate, but was 42,000 under the May 1948 figure. For the first time in almost four years contract construction employment failed to show a gain when compared with the same month in the year before.

Regional estimates of construction employment, available through mid-April only, indicate noteworthy gains in the West South Central States this year over last. In the Middle Atlantic and Mountain States, construction contractors reported a higher monthly level of employment this year, but they were adding workers at a slower rate than in the spring of 1948.

The Middle Atlantic and East North Central States continued to lead in the number of workers employed by construction contractors, accounting for 21 and 18 per cent respectively of the U. S. total in April.

The most important expenditure increases occurred in private non-farm homebuilding and public construction, accounting together for nearly three-fourths of the $200-million rise from April.

Construction activity in May, as measured by the value of new work put in place, increased 15 per cent from April.

Tire Safety.—Proper automobile tire inflation is an important factor in safe driving, because low or uneven tire pressure or unmatched tires on the front wheels may affect the steering of your car. Check your tire pressure regularly, and if in doubt stop at the nearest service station for a re-check.

GRIN or GROAN

IT IS, TOO

The Willoughbys, who lived in Chicago, had a new housekeeper. She wasn't very bright.

One night at dinnertime the telephone rang, and the new housekeeper hurried to answer. She listened and laughed and said, "It certainly is!" and hung up.

A few seconds later the phone rang again. The new housekeeper answered it, listened, laughed, and said, "It certainly is!" and hung up again.

"For goodness sake," bellowed Mr. Willoughby. "What's going on?"

"Silliest darned thing," answered the new housekeeper. "Some joker keeps calling up just to say, 'It's Long Distance from New York.'"

"That means he could earn money faster than his family could spend it."

PASSED THE BUCK

The minister was addressing the Sunday school children. After several minutes he asked: "And now, is there any boy or girl who would like to ask me a question?"

For a moment there was silence and then a shrill voice piped out: "Please, sir, why did the angels walk up and down Jacob's ladder when they had wings?"

"Ah, I see," said the minister. "Now would anyone like to answer that question?"

"Pull over, mister," said the traffic cop. "You haven't any tail light."

The motorist stopped, got out for a look, and was speechless with dismay.

"Well, it's bad, but not that bad," said the officer.

Recovering his voice, the motorist quavered, "It's not the tail light that bothers me, but what's become of my trailer?"

Factory Jobs Show Slight Increase in April-May Period

Factory employment in the San Francisco Bay industrial area registered a slight increase between April and May, Paul Scharrenberg, director of industrial relations, announced this week. The rise was due almost entirely to increases in the canning industry.

Manufacturing plants in the area employed 103,400 production workers this May, which compares with a year-ago total of 106,300.

Employment in apparel continued to decrease, falling to the lowest level since November 1945.

Further contraction was registered in shipbuilding in May bringing the total in this industry 5,000 below a year ago.

In April and May of this year, area non-durable goods factories employed about 54,300 production workers and durable goods plants approximately 49,100.

Ewing's Report Lists Gains, But Calls for Stronger Social Security, Health Measures

The Federal Security Agency, headed by Oscar R. Ewing, bears the tremendous responsibility of acting and planning to conserve and strengthen our greatest single national asset—our human resources, the American people.

Ewing has just made his annual report to the President and to the Congress, a report listing major gains, but calling for strengthening and extension of social security, education, and public health programs. Ewing points out that "to wait until catastrophe overtakes us and forces us into hastily devised emergency measures is to disregard the most elementary principle of statesmanship."

Ewing's recommendations include:

SOCIAL SECURITY

Extend benefits to farm and domestic workers; the self-employed, and other groups of workers not now covered; increase the amount of benefits available; establish a Federal-State system of disability insurance; extend the Federal-State assistance programs to all indigent groups. It also calls for the extension of child health and welfare services.

EDUCATION

To meet the growing crisis of the Nation's schools caused by insufficient personnel and outgrown facilities, the report recommends Federal financial aid to education.

Real Estate Lobby Can't Decide Why It's Against Housing Measure

"Public housing adds to inflation"—real estate lobby, 1948. "Public housing brings on a depression"—anti-housing lobbyists, 1949.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) has disclosed how the real estate lobby uses what it hopes will be a popular argument against good housing for all.

It makes no difference to the lobbyists if their 1949 argument is exactly the opposite of their 1948 one, Kennedy pointed out in a recent House speech.

He quoted from a 1948 U. S. Savings and Loan League anti-housing pamphlet. It said "billions more would be added to our dangerously high Federal debt and more fuel . . . would be thrown on the flames of inflation" if housing legislation were enacted.

But this year, the National Association of Home Builders talks of "preventing deflation in our economy" by cutting Federal expenses, especially those planned for housing.

Kennedy comments, "So it's the same story either way. No use fixing the roof when it isn't raining, and you can't fix it when it is raining."

The House will debate the housing bill this week. A weaker measure has passed the Senate.

The House Rules Committee reversed its earlier stand on the bill and cleared it for floor action. A Republican-Dixiecrat coalition in the committee had delayed reporting the bill for several weeks. Although the committee is supposed to act only as a traffic cop for bills, it often has clocked liberal measures.

More Fuel Used.—Driving an automobile against a strong headwind causes rapid fuel consumption because of the extra power required. Under such conditions, the fuel gauge should be watched carefully and the fuel supply replenished at frequent intervals.

Battery Check.—Water content of an automobile's battery evaporates rapidly in hot weather or when the generator charging rate is high. Under such conditions, the battery should be checked frequently.

Plentiful Foods
MONTHLY LIST

Western consumers will have bountiful supplies of fresh fruits for the fruit bowl. The western peach crop for this season is estimated at 43 million bushels—one-fifth above last year and about one-fourth above average. Indications point to a good crop of apricots. Melons, too, are expected in plentiful supply this year. Crop reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics say cantaloupe production this year will be very heavy compared with recent years—especially in July. The crop of honeydews is reported to be in good to excellent condition.

Prospects point to a good crop of watermelons in California, and prospects in Arizona continue very good. Conditions continue favorable for California grapes.

Westerners will have plenty of lettuce, tomatoes, carrots and snap beans for tossing into a colorful, cool salad. Soft squashes and green corn will be plentiful, too. Heavy supplies of lettuce continue to come out of the Salinas area; Oregon's crop is maturing; quality of the crop is good in Idaho; and it is expected that Colorado's crop will be coming to market in July. California's early summer tomato crop has made satisfactory progress, with harvest expected to become active late in June. Supplies of snap beans are expected to be in good supply as late spring and summer crops are harvested. And California has about 6,700 acres of carrots available for harvest.

Local 483 Reports

With only a few more days before the termination of our JEEPS-TER CONTEST, it is imperative that every member put on a last minute drive and sell as many tickets as possible. To date, the actual costs of putting on the contest have not been cleared, and it appears doubtful that our Welfare Fund will be greatly enriched unless the membership gets right down to business and sells tickets—lots of them! Since the Welfare Fund plan will have to be abandoned unless we can raise money for the continuation of sick benefit payments, it is of great importance that each and every member do his utmost to put this contest over with a successful bang!

Bro. Lee Benson reported that he received some unexpected assistance on Jeepster Ticket Sales in Carmel this week. Spotting "Red" Skelton, the famous radio and movie comedian on Ocean Avenue, Bro. Benson not only persuaded Skelton to purchase tickets, but also got his assistance in selling to passers-by for several minutes! Since we don't have the help of such well-known folks very often, it is up to the rest of us to hit the ball and get the job done! Let's not disappoint the members who will become ill during the coming months and require assistance from our Welfare Fund. Let's make certain that this worthwhile project will be carried on, so that less fortunate brothers and sisters may receive comfort and aid when they need it most.

Post card notifications of the election, scheduled for Tuesday, July 5th, are in the mail for each and every member. According to the local by-laws, the Executive Board is empowered to levy a fine against any member who fails to cast his ballot. It is the sincere hope of your secretary that it will be unnecessary to collect a fine from any member of Local 483. You can make this hope a reality by casting your ballot on July 5th, at the union hall—any time from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. If it will be inconvenient for you to vote at the hall, call or write the office for your absentee ballot. And don't forget—June dues must be paid before you are eligible to mark your ballot.

The following communication has been received from Brother Pete Falatico, a nominee for the office of Secretary-Treasurer and Business Agent:

Brother George L. Rice, Secretary-Treasurer, Bakers' and Culinary Workers' Union, Local 483, Monterey, California.

Dear Brother George:

This letter is to inform you and the membership of Local 483 that I do not desire to run for the office of Secretary-Treasurer and Business Agent.

It is my wish that my name be deleted from that part of the ballot.

I shall, however, be delighted to run for the office of Vice-President or President.

Sincerely yours,

PETE FALATICO.

Since Brother Falatico was nominated for the office of Secretary-Treasurer, and has withdrawn his nomination for that office, his name will not appear on the ballot. There is space for a write-in candidate for each of the vacant offices, and any member wishing to write in a name for any office may, of course, do so. The name must be written in legibly, and the box following the name must also be marked with an "X".

negotiations meeting with representatives of the Karmelcorn Shop will be held on Tuesday, June 28th, under auspices of the California State Mediation Service. It is hoped that differences can be ironed out at this meeting and a satisfactory agreement reached.

The next regular meeting of Local 483 will be held on Wednesday evening, July 6th, at 8:30 p.m. The principal business will be the installation of the newly elected officers, following a report from your Election Committee. Let's have a good attendance at the meeting, to give our new officers a fitting installation, and tender a well-earned vote of thanks to our outgoing officials. Your officers, during the past year, have worked long and arduously for the betterment of our organization. They have received no personal gains of any sort, other than the sense of satisfaction derived from knowing they have done their best and delivered the goods whenever possible. The very least the membership can do to show their appreciation is to attend the meeting and voice their thanks to these fine fellow-members.

The Monterey Peninsula Labor League for Political Education has been formed recently, with Joseph Perry, Union as President, and George L. Rice, from Local 483, as secretary. The committee has submitted a recommendation to the Central Labor Council, which will be re-submitted to each local union affiliated AMA Tells M.D. To Shut Up!

An eminent professor of pediatrics protested publicly to the AMA over the collection of a $3,500,000 lobby fund to fight national health insurance. After his protest, the Arkansas State Medical Society and the Pulaski County (Ark.) Medical Society requested that the professor be barred from delivering a lecture to physicians at the University of Arkansas on the subject of the feeding and immunization of babies. And, of course, he was.

Thus the public and the profession lost the benefit of the professor's training and experience on a scientific subject. All because he opposed the AMA tax of $25 on each of its members to fight health insurance, which, in turn, would kill the ever-present fear of the average wage earner that, to pay a medical bill, he might have to mortgage his house, sell his car, put his youngsters to work, or go to a pawnbroker.

Instead, the AMA backs "Poorhouse" Taft's plan for socialized medicine whereby the lowest 20 per cent of the population in income would have their bills paid by insurance funds but by the public treasury.

How silly can you get?

with the council, urging that all local unions pay in the per capita tax to the local league, which was voted by the California State Federation of Labor. The payment of monthly per capita tax will eliminate the necessity for assessments of one and two dollars upon the membership, as in the past. Local 483 will vote on this plan at the July 6th meeting.

The initial tasks facing the LLPE will require plenty of work on the part of delegates and committee members, as well as whole-hearted co-operation from the officers and members of all local unions. We must perfect an organization which will be effective at election time. We must educate all members of organized labor on the importance and urgency of their registering to vote—and then getting to the polls to cast their ballot at election time. Union members must also be encouraged to have every eligible member of their family register to vote. We must raise adequate finances to enable our LLPE to be of real assistance in helping to elect candidates who will properly represent us and work for the needs of working men and women. And finally, when the time comes to select candidates for the various county, state, and national offices, we must insure that electable, honest, fair-minded, conscientious candidates are nominated and elected to office. It is a big job, and one which will require continuous work, co-operation, and financing. The stakes are high—liberal candidates elected to office in our state and national government can be worth their weight in gold. The passage of workable legislation regulating or affecting labor-management relations, on a state and national scale, to replace the present anti-labor measures which constantly crop up in our State Legislature or National Congress, would alone repay working people for their contributions of energy, money and votes to liberal candidates.

It is a recognized fact that labor organizations, whether they like it or not, are in politics, and rather deeply at that. In order to combat the selfish interests which seek constantly to destroy free labor unions and fair collective bargaining, we must stay in politics, making our voices heard and our expenditures effective! The 1950 elections in California will be of the greatest importance to our state and to the entire nation, because of the re-apportionment which will take place late next year. California, due to its rapid growth of population, will be entitled to seven or eight additional congressmen when the census is taken and the re-apportionment is complete. It is of great importance that we elect a fair-minded, representative body of assemblymen and senators during the coming election, because our California State Legislature will re-apportion the congressional districts of our state. It will undoubtedly be one of the greatest political battles in the history of California Legislature.

We can—and we must—contribute our share toward the coming elections. A liberal legislature, composed of representative, fair-minded senators and assemblymen, can eliminate the labor-baiting, the smearing, the sterility, and the do-nothingness which characterizes much of our present State Government. It can eliminate or control pressure groups working for small, selfish interests, and bring about a degree of labor-management harmony and peace, and industrial expansion which has been hitherto undreamed of. And working men and women, pooling their pennies and their energies, can contribute much to the progress of such a plan.

GEORGE L. RICE,
Secretary.

No milk will be poured in this little boy's cup if the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), threatened by a lack of funds, is forced to halt its operations. UNICEF, now feeding supplementary meals to 5,000,000, has scarcely enough money to finish out its planned program for this year. But the hungry children will still be with us then.

ANTI-PICKETING BAN DENIED BY COURT

Superior Court Judge Norman Main of Bakersfield has denied a petition of a preliminary injunction against the picketing of the Joe and Lewis Market in that city by Butchers Local 193 and Retail Clerks Local 137. The injunction had been sought by the owners of the food store, who alleged that the pickets carried a libelous sign and crowded cars on the street in front of the market entrance so that the volume of business declined.

PEACEFUL PICKETING

A. F. L. attorneys Robert W. Gilbert, representing the Retail Clerks, and David Sokol, appearing for the Butchers, contended that the constitutional right of free speech includes peaceful picketing, and that right cannot be restrained because of "isolated abuses." The Court agreed with the labor attorneys that no grounds had been shown which would justify an immediate court order restraining the picketing, in view of the fact that there had never been any disorder on the line and the allegedly libelous sign had only been used a few times over a month before the hearing.

CAR PARKING LEGAL

The employers' demand that the unions be restrained from parking cars near the entrance to the market on Highway 99, which would have entailed a ruling that a union member could not park his car on a public highway, was denied by Judge Main. Another issue decided

Don't Delay to Apply for Security

Some workers in this area are paying federal old-age insurance payments because they delay in filing applications, according to Charles H. Shreve, manager of the San Francisco field office of the Social Security Administration.

"Two questions often asked by older workers indicate misunderstanding about the old-age and survivors insurance program," Shreve said. "The answers to these questions may mean dollars in your pocket."

Question: Can a worker start drawing benefits as soon as he reaches age 65?

Answer: He can if he has worked long enough to qualify and is no longer working regularly in jobs that come under social security. He may receive a benefit for any month in which he does not earn more than $14.99 in work.

Question: Do workers age 65 or over have to retire permanently before filing a claim?

Answer: No, after you are 65, if you should stop working for a while because of sickness, a lay-off, or any other reason, get in touch with the San Francisco social security office. You may be eligible for benefits during the months you are temporarily not working. Even if you plan to work regularly after you reach 65, it is a good idea to inquire at the social security office. It may prevent your losing benefits which you have earned.

Pittsburgh Teamsters Get OK on Walkout

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Approval of a strike by about 800 truck drivers in the building industry here has been granted by the Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL) at Indianapolis. This means, if they go out, $10 weekly benefits to each striker.

The walkout was voted by members of Teamsters Local 249 when negotiations deadlocked June 5. Local President Thomas L. Fagan said three groups of employers offered to renew last year's contract but without a wage increase. The union demanded a 35c hourly pay boost.

in favor of organized labor involved the claim that the plaintiffs were partners and the sole workers in the market, and therefore could not be picketed by "strangers" because of their refusal to employ union members and to observe union conditions. Gilbert and Sokol pointed out that the United States Supreme Court had held that it was a constitutional right of unions to picket a place of business even if none of the employees are members or the owners themselves are the only persons in the establishment.

At the same time that the preliminary injunction was denied, the court gave the complaining market owners 15 days to amend their claim for damages. The unions contended that no proof of actual damage had been shown and that none of the picketing signs were worded in such a way as to be defamatory.

10 Is Limit on Ocean Sport Fish

Ocean sport fishing off the California coast is approaching its seasonal peak, following closely by a corresponding upswing in arrests for violation of conservative laws, reports the Division of Fish and Game.

Some anglers are confused by additional regulations set this year by the Fish and Game Commission in its perpetual task of juggling fish economics to match supply and demand.

Here's a brief round-up of current bag and possession limits on ocean species:

An aggregate limit of 10 fish applies to bluefin and yellowfin tuna, skipjack, yellowtail, marlin, broadbill swordfish, black and white sea bass, albacore, barracuda, bonito, rock and kelp bass, California halibut, California corbina, yellowfin and spottin croaker, lingcod, and cabezone, provided that not more than two of such fish are marlin, black sea bass or swordfish.

A new regulation makes it illegal to possess more than 15 rockfish in the aggregate of all species. Various members of the rockfish, or seabastes, family go by some of the following names: rock cod, treefish, bocaccio, grouper, bluefish, red snapper, chucklehead, and china fish.

Generally, any of the 50 rockfish species found in California waters may be identified by the 13 deeply notched back spines.

Two to five striped bass, and three salmon or steelhead trout rounds out the maximum ocean fish possession limits, except for occasional weight limits. There is no bag limit on any other ocean fish not listed above.

Good advice from the wardens: get a free copy of 1949 angling regulations from any office of the Division of Fish and Game or one of its 2,800 license agencies.

Detroit Rail Strike

Dearborn, Mich.—The west and southwest suburbs of Detroit had no public transportation June 8 when Division 1265, Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway & Motor Coach Employees (AFL) got tired of long stalling by the Dearborn Coach Co. and went on strike. Later a license attorney service made temples to carry passengers while the State Mediation Service hammered at the company to be reasonable.

About 300,000 Michigan residents were affected by the strike of the 410 drivers and maintenance men, who demand a 20c hourly raise. The company countered with an offer to cut wages 84c an hour, following the technique of the Ford Motor Co., used when the United Auto Workers formulated wage demands earlier this year.
